

General Information for Final Exams

What if a student is ill and can't write an examination that he/she is registered for?

The student should see the school administration about what to do.

What if unpredictable events such as inclement weather, fires, road closures, floods, and hazardous chemical leaks, or school emergencies occur on the day of a scheduled examination?

Please contact the school office for more information.

Can a student have special provisions (accommodations) for writing examinations?

Accommodations are available if a student has a special examination writing need. The student should see the school counselor for more information in advance of the exam date.
