Dear Parents/Guardians,

At our recent modernization site meetings with the site contractor, it was confirmed that several of our CTS facility will re-open with functional spaces. Please see the list below to identify the opening times for each area.

Building Construction – September 26th
Fabrication Studies (Welding) – September 26th
Automotives – September 26th

Food Studies – Commerical Kitchen Area – September 26th (may be as soon as mid week prior to September 26th)
Cosmetology – September 26th

Our Food Studies lab has been delayed in construction. Plans are in place to meet curricular outcomes through sharing space and the purchase of additional equipment such as commercial BBQs for other credit modules usually not offered. We are working on defining the timeline for this area although I would indicate it is weeks and not months.

There will be times during the semester when we may need to adjust the programming for the day to allow for completion of some work that needs to be done in an area. Much of the work in areas however will be done in the evenings and weekends allowing for student work to take place.

All CTS courses have theory components. Students have been doing more theory during this time while their lab spaces are under construction. Once they return to their classes, the classes will resume with more “hands on” instruction.

If there is a need to adjust costs for a program due to programming, we will inform you at the end of the program when we see the final costs of the program. It is difficult to anticipate what those costs may be at this time considering the delay although we believe that students will get in the appropriate level of programming for the fee.
